

Sacred Heart Catholic Primary School

Children's Newsletter

27th March 2020

Dear children of Sacred Heart School,

Big wave to you all! It has been wonderful to receive so many contributions for this newsletter and we are already receiving lots more for the next edition showing what you have been doing.

The teachers have been busy checking in to the various online learning platforms and it really is wonderful to see how well you are working at your home-learning.

There are quite a few activities and learning opportunities being posted on the school Twitter feed, @NewsfromSHS, and this can be viewed via the school website. You might not be able to go out and visit animals in parks and zoos at the moment but you can visit Edinburgh Zoo using its wonderful webcams. There are penguins, koalas and a panda to watch and you can also see them being fed.

Take care and stay safe

Miss McCarthy

30 Day Lego Challenge

This has been a very popular challenge. It is great to see the fantastic contributions that are on Twitter and also the photos which have been sent in to the school email address.

So far this week, children from Sacred Heart have been very busy building roller coasters for an amusement park and a variety of wonderful rockets for NASA. We have also had a range of luxurious properties including a very well fitted villa with a roof-top pool and an indoor cinema room; a very grand Lego house which looks like it must have a great view from the windows; and a luxury house with a landing pad on the roof and a sports car in the garage, which is just what every house needs. Well done and thank you to Jaydon and Emily, Danielle, Alex and Finlay, Adam and Erin, and Samuel for their fantastic creations so far this week.

Rainbow Trail

Samuel and Dominic have told us that a lot of their friends, and children all over the country, have been taking part in the Rainbow Trail.

Children make a rainbow which they then put up in the front window of their house to cheer everyone up as they go past.

Samuel and Dominic have really enjoyed looking for rainbows when they are out for their daily exercise. They have found 40 so far round where they live.

A 'Souper' Lunch and a tasty biscuit treat

Florence's mum sent some wonderful pictures of the lunch that Florence made for her family. Rosa has also been busy in the kitchen and she has baked a plate of delicious looking cookies. Cooking is a wonderful way to practise a variety of skills including Maths and English and produces very tasty results! We would love to see more examples of what you are all cooking.

Mrs O'Connor's Den Building Challenge

We have had some pictures sent to us of some great dens that have been built. Well done to Caleb, who is using his as a battle fort; Jessica, whose den is so cosy that she would like to sleep in it; and Alfie and Luca who look very comfortable.
