Hello, my name is Prayer Bear!

I have been looking out for someone all week who has been a kind and helpful friend and someone who has been prayerful and respectful during collective worship. This week it's you!

Please take me home with you this weekend and let me help you say your special prayers until we come back to school on Monday.

When you say a special prayer with me, please upload a picture for your teachers to see using EvidenceMe. You can also write your name in my book and tell me which special prayer we said together.

Don't forget to bring me back to school on Monday so I can help others with their prayer time.

Love from,

Prayer Bear
